

Door County, Wisconsin 5-Day Itinerary

Door County, Wisconsin, is a favorite destination in the upper Midwest in all seasons of the year and is famous for cheese, cherries, fall foliage, fish boils, and more.

This itinerary starts in the south at Sturgeon Bay and completes at the northern tip of Washington Island. Because the peninsula is only 18 miles wide at the base, and 70 miles long, it's easy to reach destinations on either side of the county.

While Destination Door County sponsored some of my dining experiences, all opinions are my own.
